Vol. 79 No. 49 Wednesday, December 8, 1971 10¢

A NOTICE WE RECEIVED this week in the mail was quite flattering.

It was from an aerial photography firm from Oakland.

It read: "Halton Associates will shoot a low level 11" x 14" aerial picture of your property on the above date (Dec. 21)....."

The notice also revealed that the firm was going to be involved in extensive helicopter operations in our immediate area on that date and that the price for the photo would be $17.50 instead of the usual $50.

It was quite tempting. We almost took them up on it.

It would have been quite interesting to have a helicopter hovering and churning over our joint.

But for the life of us, we couldn't figure out why we needed an aerial photo of our place of business, even at the bargain price.

Come to think of it, the chopper would have to fly mighty low to get a shot that would show the building in any detail.

That could be dangerous.

So we passed it up.

But it was nice of the flying people to think of us anyway.

Maybe our joint will show up in other photos of the "immediate area" anyway.

We can always use an arrow to point it out.

-0-

THAT REMINDS US--- Last week when we published the land use plan for specific area I, the cutline indicated that our arrow showed the Amato property that was involved.

The only problem was that we forgot to put in the arrow.

But we have a hunch that most people by this time are able to locate that particular property without an arrow.

So its omission in that instance was not too grave an error.

That, of course, has not been the case with some "typos" that have occurred in this newspaper.

But we are not going to remind you of 'em.

We prefer to forget them.

And hope you do, too.

IF YOU CAN'T BEAT 'em, join 'em.

Although that old cliche is really not altogether applicable in the case of Jeff Whittaker, city finance director, admittedly it did come to mind.

At the moment, Jeff is residing in "county territory" just over the line from Campbell.

However, an annexation is now pending before the city which will bring Jeff's property on Cronwell into the City of Campbell.

The annexation (one lot) is coming into the city without any opposition. One might say it is an excellent display of confidence in how well the city is being operated from a financial point of view.

It is Whitaker's responsibility, as the city's top fiscal expert, to ascertain and recommend what tax rate is needed to meet the city's budget requirements.

You might say Jeff is really putting his money where his mouth is in this case.

Happy to have you aboard, Jeff.

THIS OFFICE OF THE Press is supposedly closed on Saturdays but most of the time, we find it necessary, unfortunately, to do some "catching up", and it has become more or less routine for us to spend valuable (?) loafing time at the typewriter.

Or at some other menial task that we didn't get around to do during the week.

The phones, of course, continue to ring whether or not the door is locked.

MOTHER REMAINS CRITICAL

Father, three sons lose lives in home fire early Thursday

JEFFREY ROBINSON

STEVEN ROBINSON

Four members of one family, a father and three sons, lost their lives in an early morning fire in their home last Thursday shortly after midnight.

And the mother, Mrs. Wilma Jean (Jeanie) Robinson, 34, remains on the critical list at Los Gatos Community Hospital suffering from seared lungs and burns over 40 per cent of her body.

Perishing in the blaze that gutted the family home at 1020 Linda Drive, were Kenneth Robinson, 33, and his sons, Steven, 14, Jeffrey, 10, and Michael, 2.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon in Dos Palos for the father and his sons. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson, parents of Robinson, reside in that community.

Other survivors include the boys' maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Foster of Indiana and the boys' three aunts, Mildred Foster of Trace; Mrs. Edith Woods of Indiana and Mrs. Frank Orlando of Fresno.

The cause of the blaze was still under investigation by Campbell Fire Department officials this week. Fire Marshal Gene Borden, however, indicated that the blaze had apparently been smoldering for quite some time, generating intense heat, and when the father entered the house apparently through the front

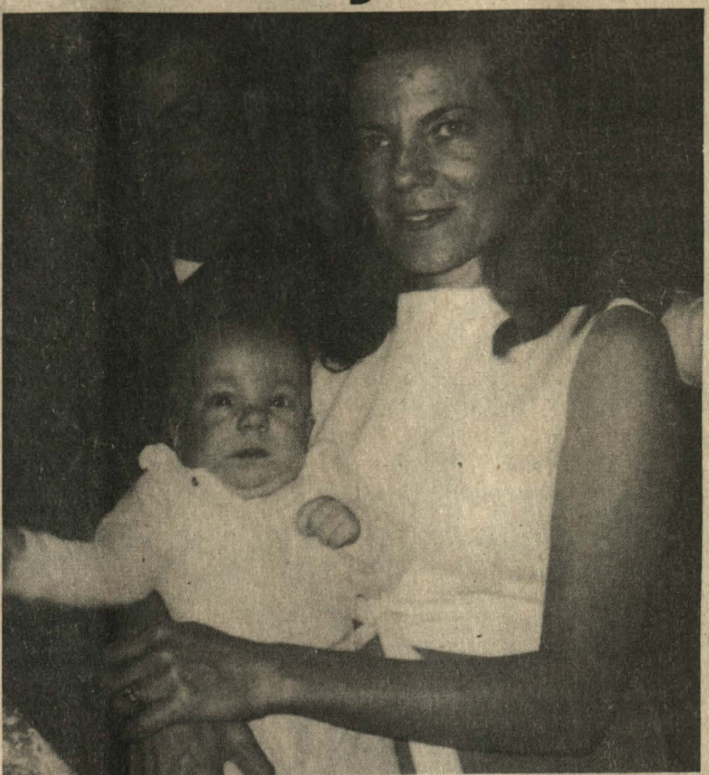
MUTE EVIDENCE OF CAMPBELL'S WORST TRAGEDY



MR. & MRS. ROBINSON AND MICHAEL

Fund starts for mother

"The Jeanie Robinson Fund" was established this week at the Wells Fargo Bank in Campbell.

Contributions to the fund can be made at the bank, E. Campbell Avenue and Second St. or, to Home and School Club representatives at Hazelwood and Campbell Schools.

The fund was set up by Leland Blalock, 1010 Linda Dr., next door neighbor of the Robinson family, four of whom lost their lives in the tragic fire last week.

Money contributed to the fund will be used to help defray hospital expenses for Mrs. Robinson and for funeral expenses for her husband and three sons.

Mrs. Robinson, known as "Jeanie" to her family and friends, is in Los Gatos Community Hospital. Her husband, Kenneth, was unemployed, due to a back injury, at the time of his death.

NOW YOU BELONG---Lowell Benson, past Lt. Governor of Kiwanis International and a member of Campbell Kiwanis Club, installs Mrs. Irma Sanders into the club's ranks. Mrs. Sanders may be the first woman member of the nationally known service club.

Kiwanis Club inducts first woman member

Modern day women are forever breaking records, obtaining jobs previously open only to men, and otherwise making their "equality" known in the world of men.

Irma Sanders' breakthrough, however, was not of her own doing.

Last Tuesday, Irma Sanders became a bonafide member of Campbell Kiwanis Club.

It wasn't Irma's idea that she should be the first local woman member of the international service club.

But after all, she had been coming to meetings for quite a few years, so certainly she was no stranger to the group.

Irma's "service" started some 26 years ago, when the Kiwanians were meeting at the Country Woman's Club of Campbell every Tuesday noon. It is a tradition with the club to have singing at their Tuesday meetings and at that time, different club members took turns at the piano, but one day, there was no one to play.

At that time Irma and her husband, Dave, a former Kiwanis president, lived just a few minutes from the club room and Irma kindly stepped in to play.

She "filled in" for the next 26 years, continuing to make the once-a-week trip even after she and Dave moved to the Santa Cruz Mountains.

Mrs. Sanders' membership was proposed by the club's membership committee and voted upon unanimously by their executive board.

In sending her name to Kiwanis International, the local club made no attempt to disguise its femininity and it was approved without comment.

So, whether, the club routinely is accepting ladies, or someone merely overlooked, or couldn't imagine, a woman being inducted into the club, Irma is now a full fledged member.

When the ceremony took place at the club meeting last Tuesday, her daughters, Mardel Sanders and Mrs. Joan Corsiglia, were present. Fred "Pete" Peterson, past president who proposed her for membership, presented her with the club name badge. Induction was made by Lowell Benson, past Lt. Governor and member of the Campbell club.

Presiding was Tom State.

Long time members Milt Nelson, Carl Field and Bill Henley related humorous anti-

Fires hit three houses in one week

Three houses in Campbell were damaged by fire in three successive nights last week (Wednesday, Thursday and Friday). The fire on Wednesday snuffed out four lives (see separate story).

The other two did extensive damage to the structures, but there were no injuries.

The second fire occurred at the two-story Landry home at 1056 N. Central when, according to fire department officials, a cat may have jumped up on the stove, hit the handle of the frying pan, spilling boiling oil on itself and the stove burner.

The five Landry children were cooking breakfast at about 7:30 a.m. Their mother, Mrs. Bertha Landry had already left for work.

After getting the breakfast started, the youngsters, Chris, 19, twins, Karen and Pam, 16, Kirt, 14 and Paul, 12, had gone upstairs to dress.

Extensive damage was done to the kitchen, family room and dining room by the flames. The youngsters were able to run outside, however, before the flames had made headway.

The third fire occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon J. Castiaux, 1062 Springfield, shortly after midnight on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Castiaux were awakened by the heat of the flames and escaped from their home after first calling the fire department.

PLANNING COMMISSION APPROVES 5-2

Amato site plan gets first okay

By a 5-2 vote on Monday night before an overflow crowd, the Planning Commission approved the zone change request of Dura-Style Homes for a site plan for the 31-acre Amato property between Campbell Ave. and Latimer Ave.

Before the vote was taken, however, approximately 20 residents of adjacent areas took the microphone to protest the proposed site plan called "Arroyo del Prado, which would provide under P-D (planned development) zoning 47 "detached" or single-family units and 186 "attached" or multiples.

The plan specifies that the single-family units would be located on both sides of Darryl Court, a new cul-de-sac that will open off Latimer and on Hunt Court, a cul-de-sac that comes off Campbell Ave.

The proposed plan had been modified from the original that had been presented on Nov. 1, Mike Engdol, of Dura-Style, explained, by adding more single-family units and thus complying more closely with the city's general plan. He emphasized that the overall density of his proposal was less than what would be allowed under the city's general plan.

Bob Sneed, of 241 Victor, however, argued that he was opposed to the change in plans for essentially the same reasons as he opposed the original. He maintained that the P-D zoning eliminates restrictions with respect to setbacks, sideyards and street sizes.

He argued that the recreational areas did not offset these factors.

For the most part the open discussion on the controversial issue was kept on a courteous plane, although at one point, Stan Milledge, of 276 Radford, criticised Planning Commission chairman Dale Scott, and Frank Klein, of 172 Branbury, for engaging in a personal vendetta.

"We are concerned with the plan before us," Milledge emphasized, "and are not interested in the ball being thrown back and forth by individuals

CAMPBELL UNION (elementary) SCHOOL DISTRICT

Board to make crucial tax hike decision on Thursday

Highlighting the board of trustees meeting of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District this Thursday, Dec. 9, will be what action that body will take on the forth coming tax election.

On Nov. 18, the trustees set the election for Feb. 29, 1972, and authorized acting Superintendent Jim D' Avis to begin the formation of a campaign committee

But the trustees deferred specifying how much of an increase (if any) to the present $2.55 rate will be placed on the ballot for voter approval, and for how long the rate will be in effect.

The action must be taken this Thursday, however, and a resolution filed by Friday, Dec. 10, with the County Superintendent of Schools, if the election is to be held on Feb. 29.

The resolution directs the county superintendent to call the election and it will also specify the amount of the increase.

A tax election committee, headed by Bob Renfer, after months of study had recommended an increase of 40-45 cents. Serving with Renfer on the committee were representatives of the teacher groups and district administration. Renfer and Buck Austin were the citizens' representatives on the committee.

However, representatives of the Campbell Elementary Teachers Association (CETA) and West Valley Federation of Teachers (WVFT), publicly stated that they felt that a 40-45 cent increase would not provide an adequate program. They have suggested a rate increase of 75-95 cents.

At the Nov. 18 board meeting, Dr. Richard MacQuiddy, board president, distributed a memo to his fellow board members recommending a 50-cent rate hike. The other board members did not comment on MacQuiddy's recommendation but MacQuiddy explained his reasoning when asked by representatives of the teacher groups present at the meeting.

MacQuiddy's suggestion would bring the tax rate up to $3.05 from the present $2.55 rate. The teacher groups maintained that the rate should be at least $3.25.

Unless the voters either approve a tax increase or the continuation of the $2.55 rate, the tax will revert to $1.80 on June 30, 1972. It is estimated that reverting to the $1.80 would mean a loss of $1.5 million in income for the district.

City hall may get new tree

It will cost approximately $750 to replace the tree at the city hall that had to be removed because it was diseased, Lyle Fredrickson, landscape architect, has informed the city.

Fredrickson will make a full report to the City Council next Monday, Dec. 13.

When the city hall was built, construction was carefully planned by the architect and contractor so that the huge ancient pine tree on the north side of the building would be preserved. Even a protective wall was built around the tree.

However, early in September (even before the city hall was dedicated) it was discovered that beetles had infested the tree and it would be necessary to remove it to keep the disease from spreading.

It was then removed at a cost of $550.

The citizens' committee that was successful in the drive to raise funds for the construction of the clock tower at the city hall has authorized any surplus in the clock tower fund to be applied to the replacement of the tree.

Approximately $250 remains in the clock tower kitty which can be used against the $750 replacement project. The landscape architect is suggesting a Monterey Pine to go in the spot and there will be a one-year guarantee to go with it.

A letter from the Campbell Fire-fighters Association is also on the agenda relating to the future consolidation of the fire departments in the county.

The Council on Monday is also scheduled to take up the appeal of Mrs. Patricia Fletcher from a Planning Commission denial of her request for a basement storage facility on La Pradera.

The Council is also expected to take action on bids that have been received for a pickup truck and roller for the Public Works Department.

Also on the agenda is the recommendation of the Public Works Department that the city purchase the materials needed for the traffic signalization at Hamilton and Bascom and contract for the installation.

At a previous meeting the Council rejected all bids for the signalization because they exceeded the estimates for the project.

Editorial

Surveys

Most of us are familiar with surveys and their purpose which is, of course, to find out how people feel about certain issues.

Then there is a commercial type of survey with the objective to determine what type of response the buying public will give a new product.

Of course, there are a number of other types.

For example, television networks apparently depend a great deal on the results of their particular brand of surveying to determine what TV shows are going to make it.

We have been somewhat skeptical of surveys as a whole because we have a built-in reservation about just how representative is the base used by the surveyors. In other words, we are somewhat dubious as to whether the field is being covered adequately.

We are well aware that surveys have a useful function to perform. They can, if properly conducted and analyzed, provide valuable information which very definitely should assist both public and private enterprise in the interpretation of the needs or desires of the public.

We understand, as a case in point, that the Campbell Elementary Teachers Association is conducting at the present time an "opinion survey of programs in Campbell Union School District."

We find no fault with this endeavor on the part of the CETA, provided every effort is made to obtain a broad enough base in the district so that the conclusions, if any, represent the thinking of all the citizens in the district rather than isolated pockets of either a geographical or philosophical nature.

We have no idea how the CETA people plan to conduct the survey or how comprehensive it will be.

As a matter of fact, we did not learn about it on a first-hand basis. We obtained a copy of the questions from a party who had been contacted.

We assume, of course, that it is not anticipated to contact every citizen.

That would be almost an impossible task.

That, of course, is where we come up with our built-in reservation.

If the survey is limited only to parents or teachers, it seems ot us its conclusions will not be representative of the entire district.

While we grant that the parents and teachers, obviously, may be more concerned with educational programs than those of us without children in school or who are not teachers, we are also interested in the school district.

For example, a number of questions that the CETA opinion survey have listed have just as much interest to the non-parent and the non-teacher as they have to the parent or teacher.

Question 7, asks "I would support a tax increase in order to continue the present programs in the Campbell Union School District and No. 8, "I would support a tax rate increase to improve the quality of the elementary school programs of the Campbell Union School District.

And then No. 1..."My family would take advantage of the district school facilities during off-school hours if the following were made available.–adult education; special interest classes;–library open for public use;–adult and student recreation.

Even No. 2 pertains to those of us without kids in school..."I would be interested in more information about: –school board meetings; –present school programs: –upcoming tax election; –local and state tax support; –new school programs.

We are not being critical of the questions or the efforts of the CETA to ascertain what the public desires.

We think it is a commendable project. We must concede that if one knows what the public wants, it should make it much easier for the authorities concerned to carry out their responsibilities.

But it is not our intention to criticise the actual make-up of a survey such as the one the CETA has developed.

We are simply concerned with the coverage.

In other words a survey must not be limited in its coverage if the conclusions are to be of value.

And we generally answer them.

In many instances, we try to field the questions with an innocuous response like "would-you-mind-calling-Monday-when-the-office-is-open."

In a surprising number of cases, our response is basically honest. We really don't know the answers and have to wait until Monday to find out ourself.

We suppose it would be simpler, if we didn't bother to answer the phone at all on Saturdays.

But then we might miss something.

And a ringing phone always seems so demanding.

Besides on Saturdays, the calls are often of the unusual type.

TAKE AS A F'INSTANCE ....A party one Saturday sort of breathlessly wanted to know if our plant could do an emergency printing job in a hurry.

Before going into our basic routine about calling Monday when the office is open bit, our curiosity prompted us to ask what type of printing was desired.

The person wanted to have a falsified birth certificate printed.

She wanted a different date than what appeared on the original.

Al least that's the way we understood what was wanted.

We didn't bother to give our basic response in that case.

We merely suggested that our printing department wouldn't be interested, and the party hung up.

Later, of course, we wondered why we didn't get more details just to satisfy our curiosity, if for no other reason.

We haven't the slightest idea whether it was for a gag or whether there was some ulterior motive involved.

And that bothers the heck out of us.

So we keep on answering the phones on Saturday.

WE ARE ROUNDING out our 16th year of association with The Campbell Press. One would think that would be a long enough time for most firms that want to give the "personal touch" to their handouts to get their addressograph changed.

But one particular firm apparently doesn't believe in changes.

A bi-monthly newsletter that the office receives from an envelope company situated in Westfield, Mass., continues to be addressed to an individual who has not been associated with The Press for more than 20 years.

And as far as we know also, The Press has not purchased any envelopes from that company for at least that long a time.

During the past 20 years, incidentally, the post office box of The Press has changed a number of times.

But the envelope comes addressed to the current box number.

And with the proper zip code yet.

Zip codes weren't even thought of when Gene Barnes was with this newspaper.

Of course, we probably should take the time and notify the company that the addressee is not around and that The Press is not an envelope customer.

But then again, have you any idea just how much mail is shoved every day into our p. o. box that finds its way into the wastepaper basket?

We use "mail" advisedly.

But at least, we know that the envelope firm that sends out its newsletter in the bright orange envelope periodically is still in business.

That is of some satisfaction and somewhat comforting.

SPEAKING OF ADDRESSES, the office recently received an envelope addressed from a touring association in California addressed to "Mrs. Naydne Herrick, publisher, Campbell Journal."

Now getting the name of the paper mixed up is not/uncommon. But there has been no "Mrs. Herrick" involved ever in the publishing of this paper.

Then we read the address more closely.

It was addressed to Mrs. Herrick as publisher of the "Campbell Journal, Campbell OH. 4405."

Shucks, did you know there was a "Campbell, OH" as well as a "Campbell, CA.?"

door, the fire erupted in all its fury.

Investigation also points to the blaze starting in the living room couch.

Robinson was overcome in the kitchen and the two older boys were found in the hallway while the other boy was dead in his crib. All four probably died of smoke inhalation rather than burns.

Mrs. Robinson was rescued from a bedroom where she had collapsed on the floor. She was handed through a window by a fireman who had gained entry to the house by the same window. She was revived at the scene and taken to the Los Gatos Community Hospital.

The call was received by the fire department from a neighbor who noticed the smoke. Fire-fighting units from the Sunnyoaks station, only a short distance away, were on the scene in minutes and managed to have the blaze under control in 20 minutes after arrival.

Robinson, a sheet metal worker, had been unemployed as a result of a back injury. Steven, 14, was a student at Campbell Elementary School and Jeffrey, 10, was attending Hazelwood.

County empties Vasona Lake

Sailboats and kayaks by the dozens will be "dry-docked" for two weeks since the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water District began emptying Vasona Reservoir last Monday, Dec. 6 to repair the gate operating the dam cables.

At the same time, the Santa Clara County Parks and Recreation Department began removing silt accumulated around the boat docks, and clearing the reservoir bottom of hazardous rocks and tree stumps.

Once the two week maintenance program is completed, the natural storm runoff will quickly bring the reservoir up to its normal level.

on personal matters."

Ken Dorf, of 837 Springfield, suggested that homes in the area would decrease in value because of the proposed development, claiming that the City of Campbell would thus suffer. He indicated that it seemed to be the intent to bring in more units without regard for the people. He said that it was empire-building and would destroy what the people owned.

Commissioner Myron Alexander, a realtor, immediately challenged Dorf's statement as being emotional and that in no way could it be substantiated that values would go down.

Commissioner Don Hebard pointed out that the community does give an indication of what is desired by the city's general plan which was adopted after public hearings. The general plan also provides the developer with a guideline as to what can be done. He was concerned, however, what the city's obligation was to the developer who does follow the plan.

Klein interjected that, in his opinion, the community did not adopt the general plan by 100%.

Other residents taking part in the discussion included, Mrs. Marion Barton, 926 Hedegard; Bill Robinson, 919 Hedegard; Jack Snider, 762 Springfield, Jan Thomas, 261 Sondra Way; John Douthit, 156 Branbury; Doug Haslover, 795 W. The motion to approve the zone change request was made by Commissioner Carl Larson and was seconded by Commissioner Norm Paul.

Before seconding the motion, Paul said that he felt strongly about the people having the right to speak about what development was planned for their neighborhood.

He added that, in his opinion, the general plan was good and that the proposal presented by Dura-Style was in line with the general plan and was a good plan.

On the vote, Commissioners Bob Stewart and Hebard against the plan with chairman Scott, and Commissioners Paul, Larson, Alexander, and Ed Pack favoring it.

The plan now goes to the City Council for approval, where a repeat performance of Monday's public hearing is expected.

Moreland studies tax hike

Trustees of the Moreland School District are scheduled to decide at the board meeting next Tuesday, Dec. 14, when a tax increase election for the district will be held and how much the override will be.

More than 80 parents, teachers and administrators met last week in a study session to discuss whether the present 54-cent override should be for a 65-75-cent increase.

The study session was chaired by John A. Hibbert, trustee, and Superintendent Richard L. Davis explained the income and expenditures and comparative data of neighboring school districts as well as the need for financial assistance following the termination in June, 1972 of the current 54-cent override.

Mrs. Doris Von Hermann, board president, urged interested residents of the district to attend the next meeting, when the tax election decision will be made.

WINS GOLDEN SHOE---Jack Pike, manager of the Beck's shoe store on Union Avenue here proudly holds his "Golden Shoe Award". The award, presented to only three men in the more than 7,000 Red Wing shoe stores, is for sales leadership with the Irish Setter boot in September, 1971.

Pike, holding one of the popular selling boots with his plaque, has consistently been among the nation's sales leaders since joining Beck's Shoe Stores, originally begun in Salinas. Since Pike took over the Cambrian-Campbell branch of the store, he has never missed an issue of the Campbell Press with his advertising.

Letters to the Editor

IN APPRECIATION

Dear Editor:

Recently my wife and I had occasion to eat at the "Red Barn" on Hamilton Avenue in Campbell.

Some time later, after we had returned home, we discovered that my wife's wallet was missing.

At almost the same time, the telephone rang. It was Mr. Terry Riley, manager of the "Red Barn," who informed us that our wallet had been found in the restaurant by Debbie Loval, a waitress at the "Red Barn." The wallet contained more than $100 in cash.

We wish to publicly state our appreciation of what Mr. Riley and Debbie did because neither our phone number nor address appeared on anything in the wallet.

However, our name was on an identification card and Mr. Riley had taken the time to check through the telephone directory to find our number.

Mr. Vierhus, my wife, Shahnaz, and I are using this means via a letter-to-the-editor, to publicly show our appreciation of this wonderful display of honesty by both Mr. Riley and Debbie.

Sincerely,
Kazem Gafari

College club gives toy dance

West Valley College's Veterans' Club will sponsor a "toy dance" Dec. 10 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The dance, which will feature the music of two groups—The Jolly Ox and The Dogs—will be held in the "Hall"—the student center on the Saratoga campus.

Admission to the dance will be $1 or a toy valued at that price. All proceeds from the dance will be used to obtain toys and brighten Christmas for needy children throughout the Santa Clara Valley.

Any residents interested in donating to this cause may drop off a toy at the information desk in the student union. Further information may be obtained by calling Lois Taylor, veterans' affairs clerk, at 379-1733.

PROTECT FISH

The first federal agency to protect fish and fisheries in this country was established in 1871.

Del Mar sponsors foreign fiesta

The foreign language department of Del Mar High School at 1224 Del Mar Ave., will sponsor the International Christmas Party on Dec. 11, from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m.

It will be a potluck dinner featuring popular foreign foods like French fondue, Spanish tacos, and German pretzels.

The admission is $1 or free for those bringing a French, Spanish, or German delicacy!

Entertainment will consist of Christmas Carols sung in the three languages, folk dancing and a pinata.

There will be a drawing with free dinner at a couple of fine restaurants as prizes.

SILENT MOVIES

Flickering fantasies of the movie world's silent era will be shown at West Valley College tonight at 8 p.m.

Admission will be 5 cents at the door of the Campbell campus auditorium, corner of Winchester Blvd., and Campbell Ave.

That evening Laurel and Hardy and Charlie Chaplin will appear in such films as "Sugar Daddies", "The Vagabond" and "The Cure."

Marvin Scott, music instructor at the college, will provide piano accompaniment.

Navy recruits new dentists

Men and women students planning to study dentistry are invited to apply for the Navy's 1972 Dental Student Scholarship Program.

Successful applicants will be commissioned ensigns in the U.S. Naval Reserve and receive up to four years of free college.

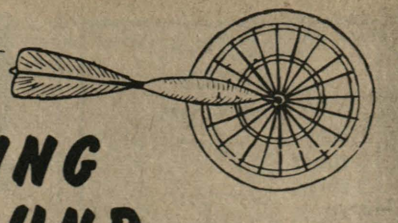
Candidates receive full tuition and $200 for books in addition to full pay and allowances amounting to over $7,800 per year.

Interested individuals are invited to submit their applications between January 1 and March 15, 1972. Program information cards and further information can be obtained from local Navy recruiters.

CHRISTMAS AT CASTLEMONT

Castlemont School holds their annual Christmas Program on Thursday, Dec. 16 at 7 p.m.

The evening features the school orchestra directed by Bob Crawford; and the chorus, under the direction of Lalla Neblett and Mrs. Doris Arensberg. The kindergarten, first, second, and third grades will present songs and pageants.



DARTING AROUND

with Tom Carroll

Here we are in December with Christmas only two and a half weeks away. Like last year I have discovered something a little different in the gift line for your favorite darter. How I came across this item is a story all its own.

Recently, I was covering a convention in Las Vegas for another publication and was cutting up jackpots with some old friends at the Las Vegas Press Club.

During the course of the evening I happened to thumb through a magazine published by an acquaintance, Bill Borland, "Escoffier" The Las Vegas Dining Guide.

Now you may ask, "How do darts get involved in a dining guide?" There was an ad from Photo's Unlimited for a photo dart board. The ad copy said "Have your MOTHER-IN-LAW or BOSS mounted on a genuine PHOTO DART BOARD. Send any black and white or color photo." The price is $4.95 and the boards are made of cork. Three darts are included and the boards are a foot in diameter.

The address for Photo's Unlimited is P. O. Box 14827, Las Vegas, Nevada, 89114. Add 50 cents for postage and handling for each item ordered.

CHRISTMAS TURKEY SHOOT

The Gaslighter Theater is holding a Turkey Shoot Sunday for darters in the South Bay and El Camino leagues. Entries had to be in last Sunday.

The games will be doubles but you don't pick your own partner. Each pair will consist of a player from the "A" division coupled with a player from the "B" division. Pairs will be drawn from the hat.

The prize structure will be a pair of large turkeys for first place. A pair of smaller ones for second with a pair of canned hams going to third.

There will also be prizes for high score, high in and high out. A separate prize will be given to anyone shooting a 180.

DOUBLES PRELIMS

Tonight the darters of the NCDA will do battle in the first leg of the Doubles Championship. The El Camino league players will shoot here in Campbell at the Black Knight, 1781 Winchester Blvd. The South Bay League players will travel to San Mateo and the Prince of Wales.

Ten pairs will qualify in each league. With six leagues, that qualifies 60 players. 64 is the magic number to make it a perfect tournament so that the first four finishers in last seasons doubles are automatically qualified. The winners of the finals become part of the All-Star team which plays Southern California in February.

Mugs!

DART GAMES TONIGHT (Dec. 8)

Doubles Preliminaries within each league; El Camino League, Black Knight, 1781 Winchester Blvd., Campbell. South Bay League, Prince of Wales, 106 E. 25th Ave., San Mateo.

Campbell Capers

by Jeanie Harris and Doreen Henner

The Campbell High A Cappella choir, led by Clarence Savage, will sing selected Christmas Carols on KXRX Radio Dec. 22, at 7:30 p.m., and Dec. 25, at 3:00 p.m.

Campbell will perform "Let Carols Ring" and "Mary's Baby Boy" and will join other high school choirs for the remainder of the program. They will also perform in the 38th annual A Capella choir festival at the San Jose Civic Auditorium on Wednesday, Dec. 8, at 8 p.m. along with 10 other bay area schools.

The first Frosh-Soph Invitational Tournament will be held Dec. 9, 10 and 11 in the Campbell High School gym. The game times will be 4, 5:30, 7 and 8:30.

The starting line-up will be: Mike Weal, center; Rick Price, forward; Tom Guardino, forward; Joe Parisi, guard and John McMonagle, guard.

Campbell's Varsity Basketball team, in its first non-league game of the season, lost to Los Altos with a score of 62-60. The starting line-up for the Bucs was; Dave Bush (who is starting his third year with the Varsity Cagers) Dan Takacs, Steve Davis, John Forbes, and John Parisi. Of these the leading scorers were Bush and Takacs, each with 13 points, Davis leading the Bucs with 17 and Parisi with 9 points.

The Varsity Buc's will play in the Oak Grove Tournament Dec. 9, 10 and 11 and will have the featured game, to be played at 8:30 p.m.

Campbell's Coach Dave Evans says of his team "Our potential is very high and we expect a lot from our guys."

Campbell Artist's Guild

by Sarah Wood

The members of Campbell Artist's Guild chose Claudia Tillman's "Poppy" as their favorite painting for month of November giving her title of "Artist of Month".

Mrs. Tillman has studied with Olive Curtis and is studying with Janet Kruskamp at present. She received her Bachelor of Arts in Interior Decoration at University of California, Berkeley. At the October Westgate show she tied for popular vote of the show, and has been a winner at Valley Fair Show. Examples of her work may be seen during January at Bank of America, Campbell.

Several other artists and members of Campbell Artist's Guild have one man exhibits throughout the Valley. Mrs. Beverly Booth, treasurer, is showing landscapes and still life oils done with brush and pallet knife at the Americana Room, American Savings in Willow Glen.

California scenes by Geneva Heald, president are available for viewing at Bank of America, Hester Branch at 1027 The Alameda during December and January.

At the Bank of America, Campbell Ave., Cathie De-Mattee has several of her recent paintings done in oil on view.

Jeanett Pang, who has studied with Olive Curtis, Helen Kendall and Marshall Merritt, is showing works of seascapes, landscapes, and florals at the First National Bank of San Jose, Beverly Burbank Branch during December and January.

These artists invite the public to view their exhibits.

Bringing up fido

By Sally Howe

Fido has been pretty disconcerted lately.

Seems as though he's been hearing many tales about missing dogs.

Finding a lost dog in the winter is difficult. Likely he's been "taken in" by some kindly neighbor and has been given shelter in a garage or kitchen, so walking and calling won't necessarily bring a response.

The responsibility for advertising the dog lies with the LOSER, not the finder. You can't expect a dog lover to rescue your pet, feed and house him and then pay for advertising to find the owner.

Place an ad promptly in a newspaper. You should also telephone kennels, veterinarian's offices and post a SIGN near the front of your house.

Recently someone told us of finding a valuable purebred dog. She made countless phone calls without success, so she sheltered the dog in her garage for the night.

The next morning she posted a sign at a nearby busy intersection "Dog Found-call (number)". Within a few hours, the call came. The owners were new to the neighborhood and a utility employee had left open the gate and the dog wandered away.

The incidence of meter readers and repairmen neglecting to close gates is really astronomical---or a lot of dog owners are big fibbers. Makes one wonder if perhaps the dogs are so offensive that it's no accident they are "let out."

Check your yard---is the dog confined to the sideyard where the meter is? And has your 12-year-old whose job is "cleanup" been too busy to get his chores completed?

Did you know it is possible to call the gas and electric company and find out exactly what days your meters can be read? Then, there's no excuse for even leaving your dog out that day---or do you want him to wander away?

Spaying and neutering clinics are being proposed for many nearby cities. Fido doesn't really think that this is the answer to pet over-population, but will offer sincere pet owners on limited incomes an opportunity to have their pets neutered at a lower cost.

Unfortunately, many more unwanted pets are born than can possibly be neutered.

Research is being conducted, veterinarians tell us, on a "shot" which will substitute for surgery.

Thinking about a pet for Christmas? The December issue of Family Circle has one of the best articles we've seen on the subject. Might be worthwhile to read it before you start "shopping."

YES, THERE IS A SANTA!--Santa Claus is real for he lives in the actions of Richard L. Hann, depicted with two admirers. The only difference between Hann and his North Pole counterpart is the fact that he performs his acts of kindness and goodwill the year 'round. The son of a poor tailor, the retired chef uses his earnings to buy food, toys and clothing for needy families. Kids can whisper their wishes to Hann when he makes an appearance at the Happy Steak restaurant on Friday, Dec. 10 and Sunday, Dec. 12 from 1 to 4 p.m.

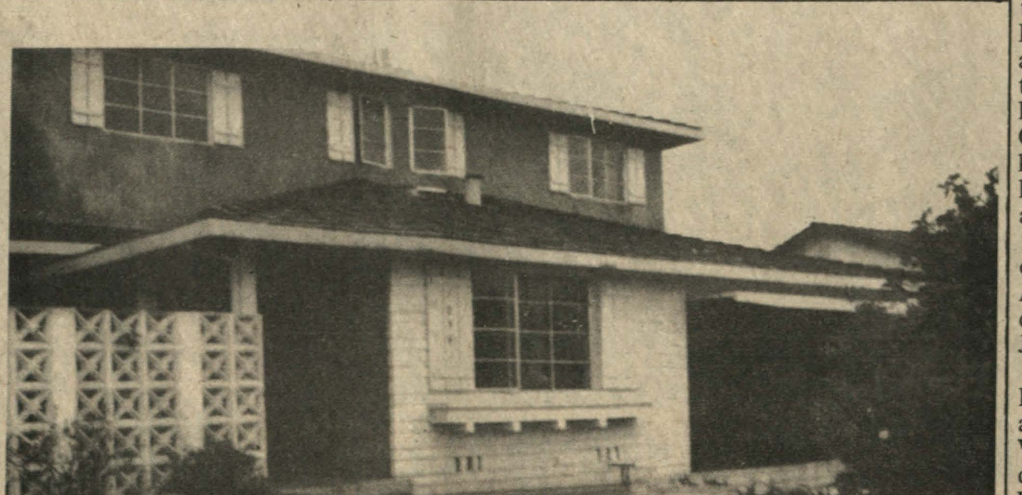
SCENE OF TRAGEDY--The Kenneth Robinson residence at 1020 Linda Drive where a father and three sons were killed by a fire last week. The mother remains in critical condition in the Los Gatos Community Hospital.



FIVE ESCAPE--Five children escaped unharmed from this two-story residence at 1056 Central when an early morning fire damaged three downstairs rooms. The upstairs suffered smoke and heat damage. The five Landrys were cooking breakfast and had gone upstairs when the family cat is reported to have jumped on the handle of the frying pan, spilling hot grease.

Santa Hann has busy schedule

Did you know there really is a Santa Claus in Santa Clara County? Although he goes by the name of Richard L. Hann, his "professional" name to countless children and their parents in the Santa Clara Valley is Santa Claus.

Hann doesn't have to make any changes to fit the red fur-trimmed suit that is his trademark. He looks like Santa Claus and he acts like Santa Claus. The only difference between him and his North Pole counterpart is the fact that he performs his acts of kindness and goodwill the year around.

A retired chef and former Sears employee, Hann has for years used much of his earnings to buy food, toys and clothing for needy families. During the Yuletide season, he is much in demand for "personal" appearances, the proceeds of which he uses to continue his philanthropy.

His wife, Jessie, gets into the act too.

She investigates the families who receive no other holiday gifts, then helps him in his deliveries. Hann is one of eight children of a poor tailor who knows what going without Christmas really means. He's been making up for it ever since.

Hospital staffs share dinner

"Ameriplan", a plan for delivery and financing of health services, will be discussed at the first joint staff meeting of the Good Samaritan Hospital of Santa Clara Valley and the Community Hospital of Los Gatos-Saratoga over dinner at La Rinconada on Tuesday, Dec. 14.

Timothy E. O'Brien, director of health and hosptials for the Archdiocese of San Francisco will present the plan proposed by the American Hospital Association.

O'Brien is president of the California Hospital Association and was a member of the committee which formulated the proposal.

Film fair for youth slated

High school and college students who flex their creativity by filming "reel images" of their world now have a chance to present their films at the newly created Valley Students Film Fair on June 8 and 9 at De Anza College.

The Film Fair will give young people an opportunity to trade ideas, talk about filming problems and meet interesting people who share their hobby.

Contest entries may be 8mm/Super 8 or 16mm. The Fair expects to offer $300 in awards for the outstanding films.

The Fair is announced now so students can start working to meet the June 1 deadline.

Students earn top grades

Hard work has paid off for over 20 junior and senior high students at San Jose Christian Schools, 2350 Leigh Ave.

Earning top honors were Randy Franklin, grade 7; Margaret Pryde, grade 8; Gaye Patapoff, grade 11 and Deborah Jamieson, grade 12, who were placed on the principal's Honor Roll with an A average.

Russel Ebbers, Marcia Masland, Carmi Mintz, Cindy Simmons and John Vanderwerf received a B or A- average in their 7th grade studies. Ray Plopper, David Vander Veen, and Roger Vander Veen, in the 8th grade; and Denise den Dulk, Bill Franklin, Katalin Gallusz, and Fred Van Gorkom in the 9th grade made the Honorable Mention Roll with a B or A- average.

Tenth graders on the Honorable Mention Roll were Adele den Dulk, Tom Duddles, Don Feak, and Karen Jamieson.

Virginia Jamieson and Tom Larson, 11th grade students, and Ruth Mintz and Martha Van Gorkom, 12th grade students, were also placed on the Honorable Mention Roll.

One hundred and forty-two students are enrolled in kindergarten through the twelfth grade at the San Jose Christian School, now in its 13th year of operation.

Dahl, Guy Farley, Ira Grimm, Larry Hill, Dave Sanders, Carl Field, Ralph Hyde, Duke Morgan, Han Hansen, Clarence and Milt Nelson and Everett Nelson.

BADGE AWARDED --- Fred "Pete" Peterson, past president of Campbell Kiwanis had the honor of "pinning" Mrs. Irma Sanders when she was inducted into the local club as their first woman member. Club spokesmen are unsure if there are any other women in the international service club.

FOR MOM---Mrs. Irma Sanders was pleasantly surprised when daughters Mardel Sanders, left, and Joan Corsiglia, right, were present when she was accepted as a member of Campbell Kiwanis Club. Mrs. Sanders had been attending the club meetings as "piano player" for more than 25 years.

New business blossoms when machinist gives dad a boost

Irvin Jamison, 86 year old retired carpenter of 2332 Fruitdale Ave. had a problem. Jamison had to give up driving his car and he refused to be a burden to his son Everett when he wanted to go to the store or other little trips around the neighborhood.

Everett, a machinist at the FMC canning division, thought he had the problem licked when he bought his dad a three wheel bicycle. But the hills and uphill slopes were too much for 86 year old legs.

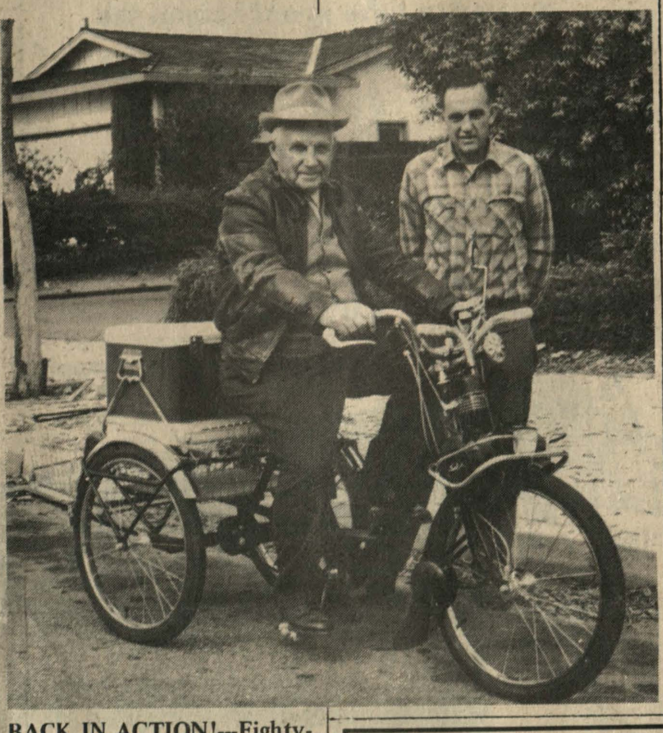
Finally, Everett located a small, gas operated Solex engine which he attached to the three-wheeler. It was all Irvin needed to "put me back in circulation." The tiny motor had all the power he needed to propel his three wheel bicycle at speeds up to 25 miles per hour.

Jamison found that he not only could do all his own grocery shopping, but he was able to make jaunts all over the valley and to visit with friends and relatives.

His father's success with his small motor-operated cycle inspired Everett to see if he couldn't provide other persons with economically easy-to-handle transportation.

This led to his opening a new business, the Solex Motor Bikes Service at 2713 Union Ave. at Curtner. He now handles a complete line of two and three wheel Solex powered bicycles and looks forward to a thriving business.

The Jamisons are natives of Ainsworth, Neb., where the elder Jamison once operated a large cattle spread. The banking and money crisis of the late '20's which ended in the historic Wall Street collapse of 1929 put Jamison and hundreds of other cattlemen out of business. Eventually the family moved to Santa Clara County where the elder Jamison did carpenter work until his retirement.



BACK IN ACTION!---Eighty-six year old Irvin Jamison is off for the supermarket on a motor-operated three wheel bike that his machinist son, Everett Jamison, assembled to give the man a boost around town. The bike was such a help to his father that the younger Jamison opened the Solex Motor Bikes Service---a complete line of two and three wheel bikes operated by a small gas-powered Solex engine.

Major work of the afternoon will be the "Glorie in D Major" by Antonio Viveldi, with Marlene Berg and Inez King, contraltos; Lois Ballard and Sharon Moradzehdeh, sopranos as soloists.

The program will conclude with a choral arrangement of Tschaikovsky's famed ballet, "The Nutcracker Suite."

Now in its fourth season, the Aversente Chorale is a semi-professional ensemble of thirty-six voices.

Tickets for Sunday's concert may be purchased at the door, or by phoning 356-7762.

Economic Stabilization

Questions and Answers

Internal Revenue Service

This column of questions and answers on the President's Economic Stabilization Program is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service. The column answers questions most frequently asked about wages and prices.

Q - Will raw agricultural products, such as fresh fruit and vegetables, be excluded from the standards for prices set by the Price Commission?

A - Yes, just as during the freeze, raw agricultural products will be excluded.

Q - How will prices and wages be controlled by the Price Commission and the Pay Board?

A - The Price Commission and the Pay Board have published standards and criteria for the control of all prices and wages which will be covered during the post-freeze program. In addition, the economy will be divided into three parts or tiers for different surveillance and reporting procedures.

Certain large firms and collective bargaining units that are of critical importance for the control of inflation will be required to notify the Board or Commission in advance of proposed wage or price increases.

Other large economic units will be required to report periodically on their prices, employee compensation, and other matters as may be specified.

The behavior of prices and wages in the remainder of the economy, comprising the largest number of economic units (usually smaller firms), will be monitored by spot-checks and investigations of complaints by the Internal Revenue Service.

Q - Are dividends and interest subject to legal restraints under the Economic Stabilization Program?

A - No. However, the Committee on Interest and Dividends, established by the President, will formulate and execute a program for obtaining voluntary restraints on selected interest rates. The Committee will also continue the voluntary program for the restraint of dividend payments, subject to possible changes of standards and coverage.

The President has asked Congress for amendments to the Economic Stabilization Act to provide stand-by authority to impose mandatory control of interest rates and dividend payments. However, the use of this authority is not expected to be necessary.

Chuck Hawthorne, former Buc grid great, makes enviable record for WSU Cougars

Chuck Hawthorne, an outstanding football player when a student at Campbell High and now a senior education major at Washington State University, has had a student teaching assignment in the Olympia area for the second half of the fall semester, according to a news release from the university.

Hawthorne was one of 171 WSU students who were given such an assignment as part of their course requirements prior to becoming professional educators.

Recently the Los Gatos Times-Observer reprinted a news story about Hawthorne which had appeared originally in the "Spokane Daily Chronicle." The item had been brought to the Los Gatos paper by Don Shank, a member of the Lynbrook High School faculty on leave.

Hawthorne was quarterback and running back at Campbell High in 1967 when the Bucs were league champions.

The news story reports that despite his size, Hawthorne established an enviable reputation on the grid squad of Washington State for three years.

Here is the news story:

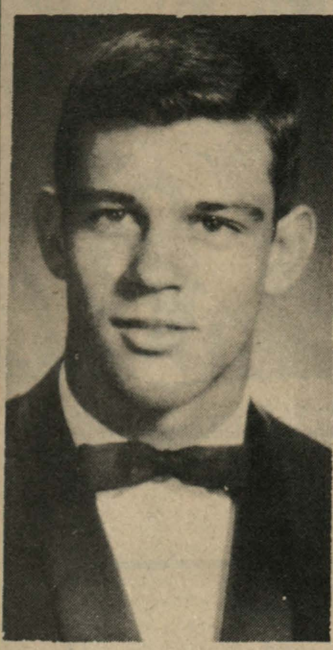
By BRUCE BROWN
Chronicle Sportswriter

PULLMAN, Wash.—"It's going to seem peculiar to start football practice next fall and not see Chuck Hawthorne's grinning face around," says Washington State coach Jim Sweeney.

"The little guy is through and through a Cougar—one of the smartest football players we've ever coached. He really knows and loves the game, knows people and is a team leader.

"In addition, he is one of the best recruiters for us in hosting youngsters we bring to the campus. He really believes in his school.

"It doesn't matter to Chuck who does it on the field, as long as it gets done."



CHUCK HAWTHORNE
--Campbell High grad

You might wonder how Hawthorne, a 5-foot-10, 175-pound bundle of energy, has been able to retain his wholehearted enthusiasm for the football program.

A lesser athlete would have chucked the whole thing long ago and concentrated on baseball, where he is a real "big-play guy" for coach Bobo Brayton's Cougar diamond nine.

When he came to Pullman from Campbell, Calif., (near San Jose), Hawthorne was hailed by Sweeney and the coaches as "the guy who was going to make things happen at the corner" for the Cougars.

As a sophomore he started at quarterback at Illinois. True to the script he turned in an unbelievable 45-yard run for what turned out to be the winner touchdown in a one-point victory. A Mike Monahan field goal in the fading moments clinched the win.

But the next week Hawthorne's lack of size caught up with him at Iowa and Jack Wigmore relieved him at halftime—and the quarterback dream was over.

I've always had to fight my lack of size in sports," Hawthorne said yesterday. "I don't feel it is really the handicap other people do and I try to make up for it with hustle. I just have to fight harder."

So, early in the season he was shifted to defense, where he played both halfback and safety, ran back punts and carried the ball a few times in the backfield. He's been on defense ever since.

"It makes no difference to me where I play, as long as I help the team and we win," Hawthorne said.

He admits the size of some of the pass receivers in the league has posed special problems for him. "Against the taller guy, I just have to want the ball more than he does, Hawthorne said. "I try to keep him from catching it and if he is successful, then I try and hit him hard and make him cough up the football."

Early this season Hawthorne had his troubles. Against UCLA he remembers with much chagrin fielding a short field goal kick and fumbling near the WSU goal line,. which led to a Bruin touchdown.

But there were happier moments coming up.

Against the Rose Bowl-bound Stanford Indians, Hawthorne was one of the biggest Cougar heros in the upset victory. Befoɾe his "hometown" fans, Hawthorne picked off two of the quarterback Don Bunce's passes and was named codefensive player of the game with the leader of the Indians' "Thunder Chicken" defenders, Pete Lazetich—and by a mostly pro-Stanford press corps.

As for Saturday's game with Washington, Hawthorne said the Cougars "don't have to be worked up for this one." He'll be starting at free safety in place of the injured Harry Thompson against the rifle passes of Sonny Sixkiller.

Then Hawthorne turned to a subject that's dear to him:

"We're a GOOD football team. Not some fly-by-night Cinderella outfit. Some people have said we were just 'lucky' in the Stanford and Oregon wins. We're going to try and demonstrate to them against the Huskies that's not true.

"We've built something here that is going to stay a long time and prove the Cougars can compete in the Pacific-8 Conference. I know the younger players are going to carry on in future years.

"The whole team is just great guys and his made this year and all the others before it worthwhile."

HONORED---Steve Davis, star back of the Campbell High School football team, has accepted an invitation by the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame to attend their annual dinner honoring top athletics from the bay area on Thursday evening, Dec. 9 at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco.

Davis was selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership and athletic success. According to Bob Osborn, Campbell High School athletic director, he is an honor roll student and is in the top 10% of his class. At the high school's awards dinner on Monday, he was named "most valuable player" on the school's football team. Last year he was named "All League" in baseball. A scholarship will be awarded one of the 22 athletics at Thursday's dinner.

First installment of taxes must be paid by Friday

The first installment on Santa Clara County taxes must be paid by Friday, Dec. 10, if taxpayers are to avoid a six percent penalty, Edward N. Glaeser, Finance Director, reports. He added that last year tardy taxpayers paid approximately $325,000 because their first installment real estate tax payments were late.

To be certain that the payment is made before the deadline, Glaeser suggests they be taken to the nearest post office to insure a postmark on or prior to Dec. 10. Depositing the payment in a corner mailbox does not necessarily mean it will be postmarked before the delinquent date.

The Tax Collector's office under L. E. Engeman, Assistant Finance Director, still has a number of tax statements which have not been delivered. These statements either have no mailing address or have been returned undelivered by the Post Office.

Failure to receive a tax statement does not relieve the property owner from the payment of a penalty if the taxes become delinquent, Engeman pointed out.

Senior citizens planning to file for the property tax assistance from the Franchise Tax Board between May 16 and Oct. 15, 1972, are warned that their taxes must be paid first to be eligible.

The Franchise Tax Board will distribute claim forms in March of 1972 for this assistance. A person is eligible if the property owner is over 65 years of age and has a household income of $3,350 or less for the calendar year 1971.

Coach forms tournament

The Frosh-Soph basketball teams from eight area schools will swarm the floors of the Campbell High Gymnasium in the first Frosh-Soph basketball tournament to be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 9, 10 and 11.

Chuck Edmunds, the Frosh-Soph basketball coach at Campbell supervised the formation of the tournament.

According to Edmunds, the Thursday tournament starts with a Prospect-Del Mar playoff at 4 p.m. Los Gatos-Gilroy at 5:30, Saratoga-Andrew Hill at 7 p.m. and a Camden Campbell game at 8:30.

Teams will be eliminated in the three day event, and on Saturday a championship award will go to the first place team. Second and third place will also be given along with a consolation award.

Prospect High won first in the summer league and Del Mar finished second in the league tournament last year.

The expected lineup for the Campbell team, said Edmunds includes Mike Weal, center, Tom Gardino and Rick Prise, forwards; and Joe Parasi and John McMonagle, guards.

The coach noted that Tom's brother, Jim Gardino, Tom Davis, Steve McGrody, and Mike Hansow will also get a piece of the action.

Admission for adults is $1 and students, 50 cents.

College adopts five year master plan for education

A five-year educational master plan for West Valley College was adopted recently by the governing board.

The plan outlines all educational programs, consisting of 10 or more units, which the college will offer from the current school year through 1976.

The plan was mandated by the California Community College Board of Governors, who asked that each community college in the state submit such a plan.

Each year the plan will come up to West Valley's board for review and possible revision.

Programs which are currently included in the program are: banking and finance, construction management, and psychiatric technician (1971-72); family health aide, and laboratory science technician (1972-73); instructional aide, medical lab technician, medical records technician, and x-ray technician (1973-74); environmental technician (1974-75); hotel services and management, and urban and governmental planning technician (1975-76).

Prior to implementing each of these programs the curriculum for the various programs will have to receive approval of the instruction committee and the governing board.

In other action the board:

Approved three non-graded, non-credit classes for adults including; China, Japan, and USA: A New Balance for the Far East; Everything You Want to Know About Income Taxes But Are Too Afraid to Ask; and The Laser—What is it? How do you use it?

College gives holiday course on individual income tax

"Everything You Want to Know About Income Taxes But Are Too Afraid to Ask" is the topic of an eight-day course to be given at West Valley College.

On Dec. 20-23 and 27-30 from 5 to 7 p.m. a simple and non-technical presentation of the information needed to prepare income tax returns will be given.

Registration for the course may be done through the college's Office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26. A $3 fee will be charged.

Most of the course content will be geared to individual needs, though a small proportion of the material will cover major points of partnership, proprietorship and corporation tax returns.

Chet Harmer, business instructor at West Valley, will teach the course. He holds a master's degree in accounting, has taught at San Jose State and is a certified public accountant.

The class will be structured to allow time for questions by participants in order that specific problems can be analyzed.

"GEORGE M"

San Jose Music Theatre's first children's production of the season is the recent broadway musical hit "George M", which covers 60 years in the life of George M. Cohan, a prominent figure in musical theatre.

A special opening night reception will be held in the lobby of the Montgomery Theatre on December 10 at 7 p.m. prior to curtain. Performances are scheduled for December 10 and 11 at 8 p.m. and December 12 at 2 p.m.

Let's a Lady keep her dignity!

Solex bicycles are useful to persons weakened through heart attacks, respiratory disorders, arthritis, obesity, or other illness. The small helper motor can't exceed normal pedaling speed but takes most of the work out of it. Solex is a wonderful family errand runner and exerciser for the healthy too, but it is so safe it is also recommended for competent handicapped persons, senior citizens, and recuperating persons who "mustn't over do it." The Solex bicycle pedals like any bicycle with or without the help of the auxiliary power. No more powerful than an electric wheelchair, but much more practical for outdoor use.
